Vision 2028 Values

COMMUNITY VALUES QUESTIONNAIRE

BACKGROUND

Jacksonville residents participated in a visioning process in 2007, imagining what Jacksonville would be like in 2028. The future they envisioned included values ranging from efficient governance, vibrant artistic, cultural, and education activities to land use patterns unique to Jacksonville. Here is some of what they said.

Land Use, Population, and Growth

We value

- Controlled land use and growth that includes citizen involvement from the onset of the Planning Process.
- An agricultural buffer and decreasing density as we leave our City Limits.
- Development that values Jacksonville that creates non-homogeneous neighborhoods and gives back to Jacksonville.
- Open spaces throughout the community.

Citizen Involvement

We value

- A governmental process whose foundation is citizen participation, where city officials and citizens actively work together.
- A government that reaches out to inform and involve all citizens, motivating all citizens to play an active role in the ongoing process of governance.
- A rational and objective process that validates and implements the evolving values, visions, and goals of its citizens.

City Government, Public Facilities and Services

We value

- Police, fire and medical emergency forces that are well trained, equipped and compensated to safeguard our historic resources, citizens property and visitors.
- Efficient and adequate water supply, sewage disposal and storm water control systems.
- Well maintained and safe City facilities for our citizens and visitors.
- An open and ethical government that respects the democratic process, keeping its citizens well informed on City matters.
- A government that will restrict growth in areas that create a hardship on City services, compromise our historic community or livability of its citizens.

Cultural, Historical, Educational and Social

We value

- A sense of community friendliness and the preservation of Jacksonville's unique designation as a National Historic Landmark District and its status as the "finest intact inland trade center on the West Coast."
- The historic "Jacksonville brand" with its social, artistic, cultural, educational and culinary activities and events for residents and visitors.
- Designated community gathering places, both indoor facilities and in natural outdoor settings, appropriately designed for the needs of the community including all age groups.
- The history of regional indigenous people and pioneers; their diverse cultures, ages, ethnicity and beliefs.
- A thriving arts scene, with the opportunity to enjoy all branches of the arts.
- Educational opportunities for all ages.
- The preservation of our historic buildings.
- our historic cemetery

Transportation, Circulation and Parking

- We value the preservation of the small-town ambience of Jacksonville by minimizing vehicular congestion, enhancing safety and ensuring circulation by providing a variety of easily accessible and safe public transportation choices (preferably of an historic nature) and making vehicular traffic planning choices that provide easy, efficient access for visitors and residents within and around Jacksonville, in conjunction with adequate parking facilities to meet permanent and temporary transportation demands, facilitated by clear and adequate signage for all types of traffic.
- We value the preservation of the small-town ambience of Jacksonville by encouraging the choice of pedestrian and nonmotorized forms of transportation by providing a network of easily accessible and safe sidewalks, paths, and trails within and around Jacksonville and connections to similar regional routes

Economic

- We value a thriving, diverse economic base fostered by a proactive, 'business friendly' environment. We value unique, character or focus, that reinforces 'Brand Jacksonville'; and Jacksonville's status as a National Historic Landmark District.
- We value Jacksonville as one of the prime venues in the Rogue Valley for cultural and performing arts events.
- We value strong, cooperative partnerships with Britt Festivals, and Southern Oregon Historical Society, our regional wine and artisan food industry, and similar entities that ensure that Jacksonville is a year round destination for residents and visitors alike.

Other issues

In addition to identifying values, Vision 2028 asked questions about other land use, but these were not included as values.

- Should the City be planning for additional park land and/or recreational opportunities for all segments of our community including our youth, seniors and disabled?
- Should the City be planning to develop more land in the 1800-acre Forest Park for passive open space and recreational opportunities?
- How do you feel about more active recreational activities such as overnight camping, a recreational vehicle park, or OHV uses in the Forest Park?
- In a small town with a low tax rate with increased tourism, how should the City develop the financial resources to construct, operate and maintain park and recreational facilities?
- Should the City focus on higher density infill development of vacant and under-utilized parcels of land within the current city limits; or, should the City seek to accommodate growth by expansion of the City’s municipal boundaries?
- Should the City look to create a more limited identifiable Historic District to the existing Historic Core area and promote contemporary development and architectures with urban densities outside of the Historic District?
- What level of park and recreation services should the City pursue?
- Would you support a Destination Resort project to generate additional revenues? Would you support the development of contemporary Cottage Industry uses, Artisan clusters, and/or commercial projects? Would you support a pay “Parking District” in the Historic Core to help offset cost of traffic and enforcement cost and other tourist related cost?

Now that ten years have passed, we want to know how important the identified values are to you.

Please check the box that reflects how important each value is to you.
