Introductions and Review of Agenda

Review of Minutes from April 11th, 2023 stand approved as submitted

Public Comment: None

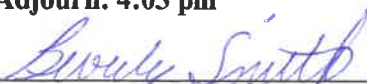

Wireless Communications James Schireman presented the group with a great update on wireless facilities that could help us with the code update. James spoke with Derek Severson, the senior planner for the City of Ashland, and also Adam Hanks, the city manager of Gold Hill. Adam drafted the wireless communications language and Derek implemented it. This language has been elevated to the Land Use Board of Appeals and they stand behind this current language. It's clear and concise which is what we want for Jacksonville. The CAC spent the majority of the meeting reading through this language.

Historic Standards Chapter 5:4 Ian Foster continued our discussion on the Historic Standards and presented the group with a sample of the illustrations he's been working on, that will help people understand better when trying to meet the compatible criteria-we want to have clear illustrations, sort of visual aids on what to recommend and what to try to avoid. We also discussed the following

- Criteria for approval
- Work plans
- Standards for exterior alterations
- Substitute materials

The Next CAC meeting will be May 9, 2023 at 2:30PM and James Schireman will help staff with an update on the Solar language to present at the next meeting
